

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1885.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To Whom Address All Communications.

And now, good friends,
Please keep in sight
The Thrasher Club
To-morrow night.

The new Bonanza made a successful trip on Tuesday.

This work of repairing Limestone bridge has been finished.

There are eight firms engaged in the tobacco trade at Manchester.

C. S. Young & Co. have a full line of colored shirts, neckwear, light weight stiff hats and E. & W. collars and cuffs.

The funeral of Mr. C. S. Miner's little daughter will take place from the family residence this afternoon at two o'clock.

A beautiful and useful ornament is one of those splashes, painted, selling very low, at G. W. Blatterman's book store.

The farmers, as a general thing, have finished plowing, and are engaged this week planting corn. The ground is said to be in the best condition for the work.

A FINE brick pavement has been laid in front of Messrs. D. M. Frazer & Co.'s, warehouse on Second street. It is a fine piece of work.

Call at J. Blakeborough's jewelry store and see the new stock just received.
Wedding and anniversary presents a specialty. Prices very low.

Mr. GEORGE BARNARD, of Nicholas County, while on his way to Mt. Olivet a few days ago, was thrown from his horse and had his ribs broken.

JOHN W. MITCHELL, of Bourbon County, raised one thousand five hundred and eighty pounds of tobacco on seven-eighths of an acre of ground and sold it at 40 cents all around.

The Irish diabolism in the play of "Kathleen Mavourneen" has been practiced with great care. The club hopes that those of their Irish friends who hear it will pronounce upon it as "well done."

Mr. GEORGE SCHATZMAN, the East Mayville confectioner, has opened a handsomely furnished ice cream saloon and will provide his friends during the season with the best quality of cream.
You are invited to call.

The towboat Conard, owned by the Pomeroy Coal Company, was destroyed by fire at Pomeroy yesterday morning.
The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The boat was valued at $15,000 and was insured for $6,000.

Needham, the Evangelist.

The Louisville Commercial of yesterday, says that "Rev. George C. Needham, the evangelist, who made such an impression in Louisville in his meetings here, is to be back and will preach next Sunday at 3:30 p. m., in the New Grand Theatre." Mr. Needham has been invited to hold a second meeting in Louisville and will come from there to Mayville, May 17th.

Desolation in Java.

In some parts of the country the earthquakes have left not a tree standing; and the soil is a wilderness, looking like the bottom of a dried-up sea. In fact the result is in as bad a way as the worst-outraged of an old despoiled. Earthquakes cannot be prevented, but dyspepsia can, and the timely use of Brown's Iron Bitters will do it. This best of family medicines can be bought of any druggist at a dollar a bottle. Don't let your stomach become a desolation for the lack of it.

This trial of the suit of John Fox against the Kentucky Central Rail Road Company, was concluded Wednesday afternoon in the Circuit Court, the jury rendering a verdict for the plaintiff for $2,500 damages. The suit was brought some months ago by Fox for $25,000 damages for injuries sustained by him last June. At the time the accident occurred he was in the employ of Owens, Parker & Co., and was engaged in loading a car, near the depot, with coal for that firm. Some of the employees of the road were engaged in "making up" the freight train for that day. As the locomotive approached Fox the mule attached to his cart became frightened at the escaping steam, and, turning, backed the cart in front of the train. A collision resulted—Mr. Fox escaping with a broken thigh bone and other injuries. The trial lasted for several days and resulted as above stated.
Messrs. Campbell & Worthington, Cocran & Son and Phister & Son represented the plaintiff, and Messrs. Wadsworth & Son and Wadsworth & Bro. the defendants.

PERSONALS.

Mr. W. Harlan Cord, of Flemingsburg, is in the city to-day.

Mr. Thomas Rowland, an old citizen of Tollesboro, died last week.

Mrs. Emily H. Tubman, a Kentucky-born lady, now living at Augusta, Ga., is in her ninety-second year. She is possessed of wealth, and distributes her income for religious purposes. The Christian Church, at Frankfort, was largely built through her generous gift, and many other churches in the State have received aid from her purse.

Sales of Land.

This following transfers of real estate have been recorded at the office of the County Clerk since our last report:

Mr. M. A. Dinwiddie's executor to W. G.
Bloom, house and lot on Third street, Fifth Ward; consideration, $1,000.

James Malley and wife to John Bulker, undivided one-seventh interest in sixty-three and one-half acres of land on Pennell Creek; consideration, $25.

Joseph Fisher and wife to George Vertner, one-fourth acre on Adams' Pike; consideration, $25.

John H. Smith to J. C. Owens, undivided one-sixth interest in one hundred and forty acres of land on Clark's Run; consideration, $2,500.

As entertainment will be given in the basement of the M. E. Church, South, on Saturday evening at half-past seven o'clock, the proceeds of which will be given to the Juvenile Missionary Society of the church. Admission 10 cents. Ice cream, cake, home-made candy and other refreshments will be provided.

SCHOOL NOTES.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NO. 1—MAYSVILLE.

Second assistant's room. The room is eighteen by twenty-five feet with nine feet ceiling. The room is papered and presents a very neat appearance. The room is furnished with twenty-two patent desks, two recitation seats, twenty feet of blackboard and reading charts. Grades B. and C. compose the room. Miss Nellie Gilling is teacher of eight and one-half years. T. Reed Chunn, Henry Tolle, Conrad Traxel and James Schnelle are the scholars. Miss Miss Belle Gilling is teaching her year in this room. She is a very faithful teacher and uses every available means to keep up with modern improvement in school work. Though not required by the board, she conducts a written examination in grade C. each month. There is another very modern and profitable exercise in this room. I refer to story essay writing. Miss Belle, if she wishes a story written, reads a story entitled to the taste and capacity of the children, and it is their work to reproduce, as near as possible, on their plates the story they read. If the essay or composition exercise is desired, she goes to the board and with the class, carefully outlines the subject, after which the children write. The discipline of Miss Gilling's room is very good.

Third assistant's room—This is in size and furniture almost the duplicate of the second assistant's room, but presents a more pleasing and home-like appearance.
The walls are adorned with pictures and maps. The room is furnished with twenty-three, though not the most elegant are neat in their way and show at what, comparatively small expense, the school room can be made more cheerful and pleasant to children. In this room is grade A. with an average age of six and two-fifths years. The teacher, Miss Anna Knox, a graduate of the Cincinnati Normal School, is teaching her first year in the Mayville schools, residing at length some of the years in the Newport public schools. She is well trained for her duties and gives her pupils the advantages of the best method of instruction on primary classes. All are required to write, and they are subjected to the most careful and systematic training in slant, height, spacing and penmanship. Her method pleases and rests the children. Her school shows the power and advantage of special training for school work, and we confidently hope that the board hereafter will fall most opportune and fortunate.
The discipline, tone and order of her school is first class. She had intended to mention at length some of her methods, but this article is already quite long enough.
So we will take the liberty of saying good bye to you for yourself what the normal methods do for the little folks.

L. W. GALBRAITH.

A Russian Officer Presents His Side of the Case.

Said a Russian staff officer to a New York reporter the other day: "The Russian army is composed of 192 infantry regiments of 3,600 men each, or 672,000 men; all of the army, except the numbering 40,000 men; of the frontier battalions, comprising 27,000 men; of cavalry, 25,000 men; and of Cosaks, numbering 15,000 men. In the Russian army there are about 80,000 men, with 2,424 cannon of the foot artillery and 150 cannon of the horse artillery.
Our engineers' corps comprises about 27,000 men. Therefore the Russian army, ready to move, consists of 920,000 men.
Besides, the Russian army is stationed at different fortresses all over the country to the number of not less than 50,000 men. There are also many local battalions for local duty. As to the reserves, I may safely state they will amount to a half of the active army as stated above—that is, about 460,000 men and 1,200 cannon. There are also special recruiting forces, composed of experienced officers and men numbering 6,000, who would be able to show the way to instruct and prepare for service ten times as many new recruits. In the Afghan war the Cosaks would be of great importance. There are the Cosaks of the Don, of the Kuban, of Orenburg, of the Trans-Baikal of the Terek, of the Ural, of Siberia, of the Caucasus, and of the Amur, numbering 125,000 men ready to move at short notice.

The Latest Thing in Stockings.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Have you seen the latest thing in stockings? They are simply astounding.
They are meant for summer wear, but the hosiery makers are already turning out extensive orders. What are they like?
Imagine a silk stocking—light, fitting, shapely, elegant—then imagine that stocking knit in fine, but open network. The very best of them. They are long and reach to the thigh, and come in various colors, with black, dark blue and maroon in greatest demand. The effect of this net-work is something exquisite.
The leg is perfectly concealed, yet cool, while through the delicate tracery of the network the warm-blooded limb shines appealingly. I confess they are not the thing for bad weather—or a windy day for that matter—but the demand is bound to be large, especially as the price is much less than the regulation silk stocking. Already I hear the girls whispering about the latest novelty in hosiery, and in a few weeks the net-work stocking will be the talk of the beauty's bou-dor.

This idea of using West to Colorado or New Mexico, for pure to relieve consumption, is all a mistake. Any reasonable man would use Dr. Ross' cough and lung syrup for consumption in all its first stages. I never fail to give relief in all cases of coughs, colds, bronchitis, pains in the chest and all affections of the respiratory system. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by Geo. F. Wood.

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently cured by a simple weight in the rectum, and lower part of the colon, and the rectum, and the rectum, has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of distention are present, as indigestion, constipation, and a feeling of fullness in the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, produces a very disagreeable itching after getting warm, is a common attendant on the disease, and the itching is due to the application of Dr. Ross' Pile Remedy.
The remedy is a simple, safe, and effective cure, and is sold by Dr. Ross' Pile Remedy.
Price 50 cents. Address the Dr. Ross' Pile Remedy Co., Piqua, O. Sold by Geo. F. Wood.

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them, but to make them never return. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING the worst cases. Because others have failed to do so, because they have not used my medicine, and because they have not used my medicine, and because they have not used my medicine,

RIEL'S FORCES HAVE RETIRED FROM THEIR STRONGHOLD

Details of the Wounded—Supplies and Reinforcements Necessary Before a Further Advance Can be Made On the Enemy—Notes.

WINNIPEG, April 30.—There has been no news of special import received from the front. The wires have been freed freely by people anxiously inquiring for friends. A large number of business messages from the general have been received, but no mention was made as to his movements. His supplies are known to be short and he is doubtless awaiting the arrival of the steamer Northcott at Clark's Crossing. Much anxiety is felt on account of the non-arrival of the vessel, and many fear it may have been wrecked or captured by the rebels. The general will not move without reinforcements and supplies.

To allow feeling in Winnipeg Gen. Middleton telegraphed to Lieut. Gov. Aikens the following official message respecting the Winnipeg volunteers who are wounded:

Capt. W. Clark, hip, slight; Lieut. Winford, head, very serious; Private D. Hislop, shoulder, serious, amputation; Private M. Riley, arm, right, arm, slight; Corporal J. Lethbridge, chest and hip, serious; Private C. H. Keap, groin, serious; Corporal J. Code, wounded both calves, slight; Private A. F. Blackwood, hip, slight; Private W. N. Canmiff, elbow, slight; Private Lowell, shoulder slight; Private W. W. Matthews, arm, slight; Private J. D. Chas, slight; Corporal Thacker, arm, slight; Private C. Roushert, right cheek, slight; Private A. U. C. Swan, arm, slight; Corporal R. H. Brown, scalp, slight. Aids-to-Camp Capt. Wise was slightly wounded in the foot, and William Donnelly in the arm.

The absence of press dispatches is believed to be due to the fact that correspondents are afraid to venture from camp to Clark's Crossing, as the country is full of hostile rebels.

A prominent French Canadian gentleman of this city received a letter from one of Riel's followers, in which it was stated that Riel goes about carrying a cross and proclaiming himself Antichrist. He is seeking to improve the half-breeds, that his mission among them has a divine significance, and that he is going to be their deliverer. He proclaims himself a prophet, and seeks by the exercise of tricks to work upon their feelings and credulity, and so induce them to believe in him. His mission, he says, is similar to that of the mahdi in the Sudan.

Advices from Battleford state that Col. Otter is preparing a force to attack Poundmaker when given authority. Part of the troops will remain on the south side to protect the ferry. The government buildings are being entrenched. Hudson bay authorities are negotiating with Col. Otter to have him rescue McLean and other prisoners with Big Bear if they are not already massacred.

A dispatch from Fish Creek says the troops still occupy the camp pitched Friday night, which lies about a mile from the battle ground. Gen. Middleton gave orders to have the remainder of the left division brought across the river and this word is now being attended to. The rebels during the night retired from the position they occupied at the close of the fight and nothing can be seen of them in the ravine. There was an alarm, and the troops turned out in less than five minutes. The dead were buried near the camp. Gen. Middleton reading the burial service.

Two dead Indians were found in the ravine where the earlier fighting took place. Three others are known to have been killed. Fifty-four dead ponies have been counted on the field and in the ravine. The rebels had eight small rifle pits and one large one. Several pools of blood were found in these. Fourteen ponies and twenty head of cattle were captured in the ravine. The rebels have not been seen near here since the day of the battle. To all appearances they suffered severely. Word has just been brought in by a scout from the west side of the river that 15 half-breeds had crossed to that side.

Thirty teams were sent from Humboldt direct to Batouche under the impression that the troops would take that trail. Twenty of Boulton's mounted men were sent to bring them in, and up to late hour had not returned. It is thought the teams were captured by the enemy.

The general opinion is that another stand will be made at Gabriel's Crossing, another at Batouche. No advance will be made at present. Telegraph communication is interrupted, and messages must be sent by brought down, and unless something important takes place the risk is too great to come down every day.

Middleton Compelled to Retreat.
OTTAWA, Ont., April 30.—The following dispatch was received from Gen. Middleton by the minister of militia, dated Fish Creek April 27:

"We must remain here a day or two more. The wounded are all doing well. Both sides-de-camp are improving rapidly. We are driving in the enemy's cattle and ponies and feeding on the former. All are anxious to move forward."

McLane Sails.
New York, April 30.—Minister McLane with his wife and daughter sailed for Havre on the steamer Normandie.

Terrific Storm.
CHICAGO, April 30.—A terrific storm is prevailing all over the country between Cleveland and New York, and telegraphic communication is almost prostrated. The wires for a distance of miles are torn down.

MADE HIS OWN MONEY.

William Bonnell Caught in the Act of Shoring the Queen.

AUBURN, Ind., April 30.—Wm. Bonnell, 35, well-known in southwestern Indiana, proprietor of the Tanager house at Milan, has been suspected as the owner of eight counterfeit dollars at the barkeepers' ball here last winter. In Jake Kirsh's saloon he paid for the drinks with a counterfeit dollar. Kirsh managed to detain him until he could send for an officer. Upon being searched, seven counterfeiters and one good silver dollar were found on him, and twenty-six more counterfeit dollars in his buggy. The money is a little thicker than the good dollar, but weighs nearly a quarter of an ounce. On trial before the mayor, he was found guilty of $2,000, and went to jail at Lawrenceburg. Bonnell is about thirty-five years of age, and was formerly a farmer near Moore's Hill.
